1	Wed.	NEW YEAR'S DAY.	H. M.	H. M.	10.—The sarcophagus which contained Nelson's coffin was made at the expense of Cardinal Wolsey, for the burial of Henry VIII. The coffin was constructed from the main-mast of the Orient ; part of which was picked up after the battle of the Nile by the Swiftsure , and expressly prepared by Captain Hallowell for his great commander, to whom he sent the coffin, with the following letter:—

5	SUN.	EPIPHANY.	7.36	4.35	Sir,—I have taken the liberty of presenting a coffin, made from the main-mast of L'Orient ; that when you have finished your brilliant career in this world, you may be buried in one of your trophies. But that that period may be far distant, is the earnest wish of your sincere friend, B. HALLOWELL.

"We shall have hot work of it!" said one; "you see, the Admiral intends to fight till he is killed, and there he is to be buried!" Nelson showed how fully he appreciated the spirit and feeling of the donor, by making that coffin his constant cabin companion; and it was only at the entreaty of a favorite servant, that he would consent to its removal.

In future reigns several alterations were made; but restraints being found prejudicial to commerce, all Acts on usury were repealed by 17 & 18 Vic., 1854.

In his despatches to the Admiralty, Lord Keith, the commander, thus describes the dreadful catastrophe: "The ship took fire just before day-break, while she was under steady sail, between the island of Gorgona and the port of Leghorn. It was occasioned by the fire of a match, which had been kept lighted for the purpose of firing signal guns, and which communicated to some hay that lay upon the half-deck. The fire spread very rapidly, and notwithstanding the greatest exertions she burnt to the water's edge and then blew up. Lord Keith was himself on shore at Leghorn.

In the accomplishment of this hazardous enterprise—perhaps the most remarkable on record—it is supposed that the largest quantity of explosive material ever used in any single attack was employed, and which is thus described:—"Lord Cochrane caused about 1,500 barrels of gunpowder to be started in 6 puncheons: upon the tops of which were placed 3,000 hand-grenades. The puncheons were jammed together by wedges, and moistened sand was rammed down between the casks so as to render the whole, from stem to stern, as solid as possible. In this immense instrument of destruction Lord Cochrane committed himself, with one Lieutenant and four seamen, and proceeded with his explosive ship towards the enemy's line, upon reaching which he fired the fuse, and left the vessel. Six minutes earlier than was expected the most tremendous explosion that human art ever contrived took place, followed by the bursting at once in the air of the shells and grenades, and the destruction of the vessels."

The latter making Jeffreys known, he was seized by the populace, carried before the Council, and committed to the Tower of London, where he died, as above stated.

8.—The remains of President Lincoln reach Springfield, Illinois, and are deposited in the Capitol of the State, previous to their interment in that city—1865.

7.—Bernadotte, once a soldier in the French army, crowned King of Sweden, 1810.

18.—The Divorce Court in England went into operation 1858. It is stated that from the time of the Reformation up to 1857, there had been in England only 317 divorces by Act of Parliament.

16.—Mr. Sadler expelled the House of Commons, 1851; shortly afterwards he was supposed to have committed suicide on Hampstead Heath; but it has been stated, on the authority of respectable witnesses, that he was living at a later date.

21.—The ceremony of the Doge of Venice wedding the Adriatic Sea, instituted in 1178, was for several centuries annually commemorated upon Ascension Day, on which occasion the Doge dropped a ring into the sea from his State barque. These celebrations were attended by all the nobility of the State and foreign ambassadors, in beautiful gondolas, and presented a most imposing sight. The ceremony was intermitted for the first time for centuries, in 1791, in consequence of Venice being occupied by the troops of Bonaparte, and who, by the treaty of Campo Formio gave part of the territory to Austria, and annexed the remainder to the Cisalpine republic. In olden times the Doges were sovereigns, but they were gradually deprived of power, and at last became mere pagani of State; and the office of Doge ceased to have even a nominal existence when Venice, "sunk in its glory, decayed in its work," yielded almost without a struggle to republican France.

22.—President Johnson, by proclamation, declared all the ports in the United States, with the exception of certain ports in Texas, open to foreign commerce—1865.

14—Lord Francis Douglas, the Rev Mr. Hudson, and Mr. Haddo, together with the well-known Alpine guide, Michael Oroz, were killed in descending the Matterhorn—1865.

15—Captain Trollope's gallant exploit in the Glutton, 1796. Captain Trollope was in command of H. M. S. Glutton of 1254 tons, 56 guns, carrying twenty-eight 68 pounders on her lower deck. On July 15, Captain Trollope fell in with a squadron of French ships, consisting of Brutus, 50; Incorruptible, 38; Magicienne, 38; Republicaine, 28; two corvettes of 23 guns each, a brig of 16, and a cutter of 8 guns. This squadron Captain Trollope unhesitatingly engaged single-handed, when the action lasted from 9.45 p. m. till 11 p. m. Having repaired damages during the night, he offered the French battle at day-break, which they declined, and bore away for Flushing, followed by the Glutton. Having thus driven the enemy into Port, the Glutton proceeded to Yarmouth to rest. Her loss in the action was two men wounded. On the side of the enemy one frigate lost seventy killed and wounded, and one frigate sunk in Flushing harbor, and they sustained much other damage. The largest of the French frigates was 800 to 400 tons larger than the Glutton. It is in memory of this exploit that the Admiralty called one of the recently built floating batteries the Glutton.

His wife was employed in the family of the Chethams, at Castleton Hall, near Rochdale, as a nurse; but she died, and in 1741, when eighty-four years old, he married a second wife, his house-keeper, who was only twenty-six years of age, and in 1744, there was born a son, James, who lived till 1844, on a small farm at Harwood, near Bolton. This centenarian, who was blessed with good health almost to the last, when ninety-six years of age, walked one day twenty-one miles to record his vote at an election, and he could say that he had a brother born in the reign of Charles II, and that his father was born during the Commonwealth.

1.—All Saints' Day was instituted by Pope Gregory IV. in 835. In the Protestant Church it is a day for the commemoration of all those Saints and Martyrs in whose honor no day is assigned. At the beginning of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, the question whether there should be Saints' days in the Calendar was considered by Convocation, and sharply and fully debated; and they struck out a great number of anniversaries, leaving only those which at their time were connected with popular feeling or tradition, and this was carried only by a single vote: for 59 members voted for their being retained, whilst 55 were for omitting them.

6.—Princess Charlotte died, 1817, in child-birth. Never, in all probability, was the great heart of the British nation so much grieved by any event as that of the death of the Princess Charlotte.

6.—The Shenandoah, a Confederate cruiser, arrived at the Mersey, Liverpool, and was placed in charge of Capt. Pynner, of Her Majesty's ship Donegal, 1865.

6.—First Confederate Parliament of the Dominion of Canada opened by His Excellency Lord Monck—1867.

7.—The first part of the French army, in compliance with the September treaty, leaves Rome—1865.

8.—Seizure of Messrs. Sillwell and Mason, Commissioners of the Southern Confederacy, on board of the British mail steamer 'Trent,' by Captain Wilkes, of the 'San Jacinto,' 1861.

11.—The London Royal Gazette, of the existing series, was published first at Oxford, the Court being there on account of the great plague, 1665.

27.—The Fenian trials commenced in Dublin, when several persons were convicted of treason and felony, 1868.

This act ordained "That it shall be lawful to all manner of men that find thieves robbing by day or night, to take and kill those and cut off their hands, without any trial; and any head so cut off should be put upon a stake upon the Castle of Trim; and that it shall be lawful for the bringer of the said head to distraint and levy (as his reward) of every man having one plough-land in the barony, twopence; and of every man having one house and goods, value forty shillings, one penny." Much slaughter in consequence of the promulgation of this barbarous measure ensued. The Earl of Desmond, under whose regime this barbarous "Head Act" was introduced, shortly afterwards fell from the lofty seat of Lord-Deputy of Ireland, was cast into prison, and prematurely ended his life on the block, leaving a successor who, after enjoying riches, honour and power for twenty years, was basely murdered by his own servants.

THE SIGNS OF THE ZODIAC.

The Ecliptic is an imaginary circle in the heavens, which shows the Sun's apparent annual course. It runs along the middle of another imaginary broad circle, the Zodiac, intersecting the equator at an angle of $23^{\circ} 28'$ nearly, and touching the tropic of Cancer on one side of the equator, and the tropic of Capricornus on the other side. Astronomers, since early ages, have divided this circle into twelve equal parts, each part containing thirty degrees; and have named these after the twelve constellations of the Zodiac—as shown in the margin.

The time which the sun takes, of apparently passing through any one of these signs, is termed a solar month. But the ecliptic shows, in reality, the course of the earth annually round the Sun. The sun's apparent motion is dependent on each period of the earth's course, in which he must be betwixt the earth and some one of the signs; therefore, although the earth only has changed its place, yet to an observer standing on it, the Sun appears to have moved. The earth is always in the opposite sign to that one in which the Sun appears. The sign of Aries is that division of the ecliptic which intersects the equator, where, owing to what is called the earth's declination, the Sun appears to pass to the Northern side of the equator, producing our vernal [or Spring] equinox. The apparent motion of the sun, which makes him appear above or below the horizon in our hemisphere, constitutes the distinction between day and night; and the time when he continues below or above the horizon, constitutes the length of the day. In his northward progress he passes the equator about the 20th of March, and attains the greatest northern declination about the 21st of June; after which he returns southward, recrosses the equator about the 22nd of September, and is at his greatest southern declination about the 21st of December. Now, as the period of the day depends upon his continuing above the horizon, the longest day is the 21st of June, the Summer Solstice; the shortest the 21st of December, the winter solstice in our hemisphere. As the rate of the sun's apparent motion northward or southward is, also, most rapid at the time that his orbit intersects the equator, and least when he is at his greatest distance from it, the variation of the length of the day is most rapid about the equinox, and least so about the solstices. When the sun, therefore, enters the tropic of Cancer, the days begin to lengthen, and continue to do so until, at the summer solstice, the "doubtful empire of the night," and the early dawn, with all its heart-enlivening concomitants, so beautifully described by Thomson, takes place. On the length of time, also, during which the sun is above the horizon, the different warmth of the seasons depend; but, nevertheless, the greatest heat of the year is after midsummer, or in July and August. This is explained by the fact, that as long as the quantity of the heat communicated to the earth's surface is greater than that which it parts with, the general heat of the weather increases; and this is the case long after the summer solstice. Many other causes, however, regulate the heat of the atmosphere, for there is, in many instances, a considerable difference between the heat of places having the same latitude, for example, Edinburgh and Moscow, the former of which, in point of temperature, differs very greatly from the latter; and this is still more remarkable in reference to the mouth of the St. Lawrence, which is in latitude 49° N., more than 2° south of London and that of the Thames. The St. Lawrence is blocked with ice in winter, whilst the navigation of the Thames is open.

SPRING.

Come, gentle Spring, ethereal mildness, come;
And from the bosom of yon dropping cloud,
While music wakes around, veiled in a shower
Of shadowing roses, on our plains descend.

And see where surly Winter passes off,
Far to the north, and calls his ruffian blasts:
His blasts obey, and quit the howling hill,
The shattered forest and the ravaged vale;
While softer gales succeed, at whose kind touch,
Dissolving snows in livid torrents lost,
The mountains lift their green heads to the sky.
As yet the trembling year is unconfirmed,
And winter oft at eve resumes the breeze,
Chills the pale morn, and bids his driving sleets
Deform the day delightless.

At last from Aries rolls the bounteous sun,
And the bright Bull receives him. Then no more
The expansive atmosphere is cramp'd with cold;
But full of life and vivifying soul,
Lifts the light clouds sublime, and spreads them there,
Fleecy, and white, o'er all surrounding heaven.

THOMPSON'S SEASONS.

S U M M E R .

From brightening fields of ether fair-disclosed,
 Child of the Sun, refulgent Summer comes,
 In pride of youth, and felt through natures depth ;
 He comes attended by the sultry hours
 And ever fanning breezes on his way ;
 While, from his ardent look, the turning Spring
 Averts her blushful face ; and earth, and skies,
 All smiling, to his hot dominion leaves.

With what an awful world revolving power
 Were first the unwieldy planets launched along
 The illimitable void ? thus to remain,
 Amid the flux of many thousand years,
 That oft have swept the toiling race of men
 And all their labour'd monuments away,
 Firm, unremitting, matchless, in their course ;
 So the kind-temper'd change of night and day,
 And of the Seasons ever stealing round,
 Minutely faithful : such the All-perfect Hand
 That pois'd, impels, and rules the steady whole.
 When now no more the alternate Twins are fix'd,
 And Cancer reddens with the solar blaze,
 Short is the doubtful empire of the night.

THOMSON'S SEASONS.

A U T U M N .

Crown'd with the sickle and the wheaten sheaf,
While Autumn nodding o'er the yellow plain,
Comes jovial on, the Doric reed once more,
Well pleas'd I tune. Whate'er the wintry frost
Nitrous prepared—the various-blossom'd Spring
Put in white promise forth—and summer suns
Concocted strong—rush boundless now to view,
Full, perfect all, and swell my glorious theme.

When the bright Virgin gives the beauteous days,
And Libra weighs in equal scales the year,
From Heaven's high cope the fierce effulgence shook
Of parting Summer, a serener blue,
With golden light enlivened, wide invests
The happy world. Attemper'd suns arise,
Sweet-beam'd, and shedding oft through lucid clouds
A pleasing calm; while broad, and brown, below
Extensive harvests hang the heavy head.
Rich, silent, deep, they stand; for not a gale
Rolls its light billows o'er the bending plain:
A calm of plenty! till the ruffled air
Falls from its poise, and gives the breeze to blow.
Rent is the fleecy mantle of the sky;
The clouds fly different; and the sudden sun
By fits effulgent gilds the illumin'd field,
And black by fits the shadows sweep along.

THOMSON'S SEASONS.

WINTER.

See, Winter comes to rule the varied year,
 Sullen and sad, with all his rising train;
 Vapours, and clouds, and storms. Be these my theme;
 These, that exalt the soul to solemn thought,
 And heavenly musing. Welcome, kindred glooms!
 Cogent horrors, hail! with frequent foot,
 Pleased, have I, in my cheerful morn of life.
 When nurs'd by careless solitude I liv'd,
 And sung of Nature with unceasing joy,
 Pleas'd have I wandered through your rough domain;
 Trod the pure virgin snows, myself as pure;
 Heard the winds roar, and the big torrent burst;
 Or seen the deep fermenting tempest brew'd
 In the grim evening-sky. Thus passed the time;
 Till through the lucid chambers of the South
 Look'd out the joyous Spring—look'd out and smiled.

Now when the cheerless empire of the sky
 To Capricorn the Centaur-archer yields,
 And fierce Aquarius stains the inverted year—
 Hung o'r the farthest verge of Heaven, the sun
 Scarce spreads o'r ether the dejected day.

The close season for Wild Turkey, Grouse, Partridge or Pheasant, is between the 1st of February and the 1st of September; for Quail, between 1st February and the 1st October; for Woodcock, 1st March and 15th July; and Wild Swan-Goose, Duck, Widgeon or Teal, 1st April and 1st August. The law also provides that no Beaver, Muskrat, Mink, Sable, Otter, or Fish-er, shall be trapped or killed between the 1st May and the 1st November.

It is unlawful to fish for, catch, buy or sell the following fish in Quebec, between the dates named: Speckled Trout, 20th September and 1st April; White Fish, in any way, between the 19th November and 1st December, and by net between 30th May and 1st August. The close season for Bass, Pike, Pickerel (doree), and Maskinonge, is regulated by Order in Council, to suit different localities.

The close season for Red or Grey Deer,

Moose, Elk, Reindeer and Caribou in Quebec, is from 1st February to 1st September; for Woodcock or Snipe, 1st March to 1st August; Grouse, Partridge, Ptarmigan or Pheasant, 1st March to 20th August; Wild Swan, Wild Goose or Wild Duck of the kinds known as Mallard, Grey Duck, Black Duck, Wood Duck, Teal, Widgeon, or any other kind of Wild Duck, 20th May to 20th August; Muskrat, 10th May to 1st March.

It is also unlawful to fish for, catch, buy or sell any of the following fish between the dates named in Quebec; Salmon, 31st July and 1st May, (fly surface fishing is, however, permitted between 30th April and 31st August;) Trout or Lunge, 15th September and 15th December; Bass and Pickerel (doree), Pike and Maskinonge, 30th April and 1st June.

It is also unlawful to kill or snare any birds whatsoever, excepting Eagles, Falcons, Hawks, Wild Pigeons, Kingfishers, Crows and Ravens, in either Quebec or Ontario, between the 1st March and the 1st August in each year.

TIMBER MEASURING.

DEALS.—Are generally sold by the standard hundred of 120 deals of the dimensions as follows:—One Quebec standard deal contains 2 feet 3 inches 6 pts. cubic; one Quebec standard hundred contains 229 ft. 2 inches cubic or 4.58 loads, and are equivalent to 2,750 ft., superficial board measure of 1 inch thick.

One Quebec standard hundred is 100 pieces of 12 ft. by 11 in. by 2½ in., and is equal to 1 hd. 1 qr. 16 pcs. of St. Petersburg standard; and 240 Quebec standards are equal to 11 loads.

One St. Petersburg standard hundred is equal to 120 pcs. of 12 ft. by 11 in. by 1½ in., and is equal to 72 Quebec standard, and equal to 3 3-10 loads of timber.

A load of deals is 800 square feet by one inch in thickness, equal to 50 cubic feet, or 300 square feet of 2 inch, or 400 of 1½ inch.

A load is equal to 21 deals, 1 ft. 10½ in., Quebec standard, and equal to 36½ St. Peters-burgh standard deals.

To convert Quebec standard hundred into St. Petersburg standard, add ⅓ of quantity and divide by 30.

The customary allowance for freight is a hundred St. Petersburg standard at twice the rate charged for timber per load.

STAVES.—One standard stave is 5½ ft. long by 1½ in. thick. One mille standard, 1,200 pieces, is equal to 16 1-9 loads of timber. One mille, or 1,200 standard staves, is equal to 343 ft. 9 inches, or 6 43-50 loads. 175 standard staves are equal to 50 ft. 1 in. 6½ parts, or 1 load 1 in. 0½ parts.

One mille West India staves, 1,200 pieces, is equal to 5½ loads of timber. Owing to the variations in breadth and thickness of staves, it is customary to allow one mille, Quebec standard, to be equal to 13 loads.

LATHWOOD.—One fathom of 4 feet long and 6 feet by 6 feet is equal to 13 loads.

Particular attention is given at 'The Ottawa Citizen' Office to Orders from the Country—printing being done, where practicable, while parties wait; or, if desired, forwarded promptly by Parcel Post.

CANADIAN COUGH EMULSION.

THIS valuable Medicine has the extraordinary property of immediately relieving Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, Tightness in the Chest, &c., &c. It operates by dissolving the congealed phlegm, causing free expectoration, and an agreeable moistness of the skin.

Those who are troubled with that unpleasant tickling in the throat, which deprives them of rest at night by the incessant cough which it provokes, will, by using this medicine, find immediate relief; and one bottle will, in most cases, effect a cure. It may be taken with perfect safety by children of three or four years of age. Prepared only by GEORGE MORTIMER. Sold in bottles at 1s. 3d. and 2s. 6d. each.

MORTIMER'S COMPOUND ANTIBILIOUS AND FAMILY APERIENT PILLS,

MORTIMER'S VEGETABLE WORM DESTROYER.

The only sure Remedy that exists. Combining Delicious Taste and Amazing Power.

Mortimer's Infallible Remedy for Cholera, Diarrhœa,
AND BOWEL COMPLAINT.

THE following extract, which Mr. Mortimer is kindly permitted to publish, is from the letter of a relative of Dr. Wolf of this city, now residing in the United States:

"Find out if the express charges are too high, and if not, arrange with Mortimer to let you have a box of the bottles of CHOLERA MIXTURE. I could make a good little fortune with them. The bottle I brought with me here brought two ladies round from decided cholera; one on board the boat, and the other in Berlin, United States. Both commenced with diarrhœa, then dysentery, and then vomiting. The one at Berlin was very bad. I gave her three doses of the Cholera Mixture, the third of which stopped the vomiting. The next day she was all right or nearly so. She was very grateful. I have now only a little left."

✂ This excellent mixture, which should be in every family, is only 25 cents per bottle.

INDIAN LANDS OFFICE AND OUT-STATIONS.

THE UNSOLD LANDS consist of about 300,000 acres in the Saugeen Peninsula, the prices of which vary according to quality and situation, from 75 cents to $3.50 per acre. The Department has contributed liberally towards opening a main line of road, with its starting point upon the Owen Sound and Saugeen gravelled road, and running northward up the Peninsula towards its northernmost point, opposite the southerly extremity of the Great Manitoulin Island. The agency for these lands is at Toronto, under the superintendence of W. R. Bartlett, Esq., who is provided with maps and with lists of the disposable lands. The conditions of sale are one-fifth down, and the remainder payable by four annual instalments, with interest on each as it falls due, and actual and early occupation.

The Great Manitoulin Island has been in part surveyed. Seven Townships having been laid out, containing about 160,000 acres; and Townplots also surveyed at Little Current, now designated Shaftesbury, and at Sheguendah, where are at least three good mill sites. There are other townships advanced in survey. The agent for the sale of lands upon the Island is C. T. Dupont, Esq. The price of farming is 20 cents per acre, and actual and immediate settlement. Oil and mineral lands are charged $1.00 per acre, cash down, and patents issue without reference to occupation or improvement.

The Indian Department holds also for sale in trust for the Indians, lands in the vicinity of the Sault Ste. Marie, Batchewaung Bay, and Garden River, consisting of about 200,000 acres. The agent is Joseph Wilson, Esq., of Sault Ste. Marie, and the terms correspond with those laid down for the Manitoulin Island. The most direct access to both of these localities is by steamer from Collingwood, the Lake Huron terminus of the Northern Railway.

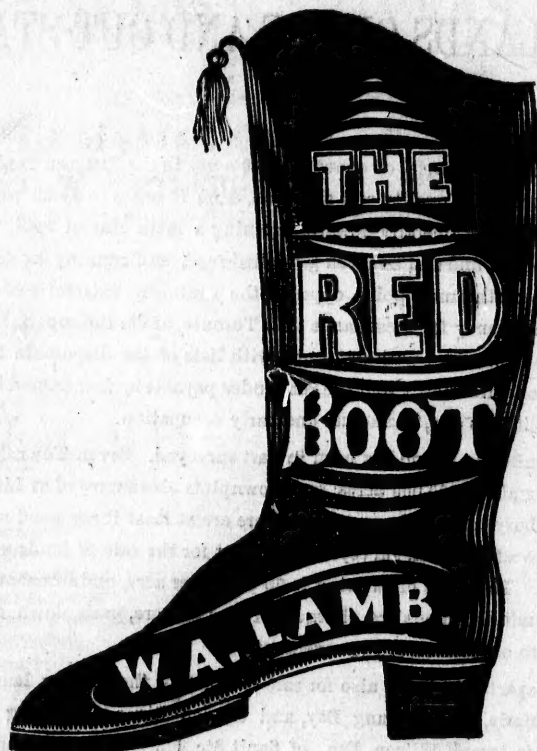

On Lake Superior there are Indian lands also for sale, consisting of about 64,000 acres in the vicinity of Fort William on the Kaministagua River. The agent is Mr. McVicar, resident at Fort William, and the terms are the same as those for the lands around the Sault Ste. Marie.

The unsurveyed Indian reserves in Upper Canada, which have not been yielded up for sale, are of considerable extent, and some of them contain timber of value, which can only be cut under official license from the superintendents, who attend to the local business of the lands under their superintendence.

In Lower Canada, the Indian reserves are of more limited extent, and there are no lands within them at present for sale.
